++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Dry but chilly tonight. Turning wet and windy tomorrow.

This Evening and Tonight:
Any remaining showers in the east soon die out to give a dry night. Mostly clear, though some cloud likely to build later in the night. Feeling chilly, with perhaps some localised frost and fog patches. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Thursday:
A dry start to the day but soon rain arrives from the west, heavy and persistent at times, and continues through into the night. Becoming windier, particularly towards the coasts. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Remaining wet Friday with strong winds and coastal gales. Calmer into Saturday, with showers and sunny spells. Unsettled again Sunday, with another band of rain arriving from the west.
